Republicans Work On New Compromise Plan

A final attempt for a compromise whereby the troubles between the Mayor and the Board of Supervisors may be effectually settled, is being made today. The proposition emanates from the Republicans, being, however, more of a party measure than one coming directly from the Supervisors themselves.

W. O. Smith appears to be the main backer of the plan. He proposes that he and A. G. M. Robertson for the Republicans and W. A. Kinney and E. M. Watson for the Democrats have a conference at which a compromise can be arrived at. The main basis for the agreement is to be a total wiping out of all the action which has been taken so far by the Board. The Mayor is to be given the power of appointment, subject, however, to the approval of the Board. The rules are to be revised in some particulars, and finally McClellan, the lone Democrat, is to be given a seat on the Expenditures Committee, Logan being willing, it is said, to give up his seat for the purpose, as he is chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

While this is the proposition, there are still many bridges to be crossed before it can be carried through. First of all, it does not matter that all the Republican Supervisors have been consulted about the matter, and there is every possibility that they will decline to revise the rules. Furthermore, it is by no means probable that the Democrats will accept the proposition. Watson and McClellan were seen this morning, and they expressed themselves as opposed to the proposed plan. Their view was that the Republicans were virtually giving up nothing, and that the most satisfactory thing for all concerned was to have the courts decide the questions which have been raised.

The Mayor was not seen, but Secretary Rhodes said that, while he had heard nothing about the proposed compromise from any authoritative source, he had heard that there was some plan of the kind being contemplated. The Mayor would undoubtedly be willing to consider the matter, and would submit it to his attorneys, Kinney and Watson.

On the whole, it appears that the Democrats are not at all anxious to effect a compromise, but prefer to take the matter to the courts. The leaders of the party think that they

PSYCHOLOGY AND ART CLASSES

Miss Locke's Class in the Psychology of William James will begin January 20th, at 10:30 a. m., at the residence of Mr. J. M. Dowsett, Punahou street, between Wilder and Beretania avenues, and the Art Class will begin January 22d, at 3:30 p. m., at the residence of Mrs. C. B. Wood, Thurston avenue.

Need Fire Protection At Insane Asylum

"We receive practically no water from the public mains, and the fire protection for the buildings is therefore nothing. We have laid some two-inch pipe from the tank, and need additional storage tanks in which to pump water."

Dr. Peterson made the above statement in his report to the Board of Health on conditions at the Insane Asylum at Palama. Fire protection is needed there, without a doubt, for the wooden buildings are mostly all old. Ward number two was condemned five years ago by a committee from the Board of Health as being in too bad a condition to repair, but nothing has been done since that time. Peterson therefore recommends that an appropriation of $10,000 be secured, if possible, to build a new structure. He says:

"The insane asylum is increasing its daily average of inmates at the rate of 25 for the two years." It is probably about by this that in the past two years the number of inmates has been increased by 25.

The Board of Health has abolished the positions of Registrar General, which carries a salary of $150 per month, and of Inspector of Plumbing and House Sewers, carrying a salary of $100 per month. The salary of the Milk and Dairy Inspector will probably be raised from $75 to $100 per month.

WILSON SELECTED FERN'S APPOINTEES

Complications Continue In Office of Road Supervisor

"I selected the men for this office and the Mayor appointed them," said John Wilson, Fern's appointee to take Tommie Cummins' place, this morning. Wilson and his men are still on the outside of the office, "waiting and watching," they say, while the old employees are inside going ahead with their work just as if nothing had ever occurred to disturb their serenity. Wilson was asked what he meant by conducting a fight against women, the stenographer in the office at present being Miss Lucy Lloyd.

"I do not think that this office is any place for a woman," said Wilson. "There are too many workmen passing back and forth. Anderson, my selection for the position, will hold down the position of both stenographer and assistant clerk, thereby reducing the office force."

It was pointed out to Wilson that the office force would be exactly the same under the new regime as before, Fern having added one man to the garage department force. J. C.

LEILEHUA WILL BE READY FOR TROOPS

Fifth Cavalry Will Reach Here Wednesday Morning

Early Wednesday morning the U. S. Army transport Thomas, bringing the first and third squadrons of the Fifth United States Cavalry, will reach this port, if the ship runs on schedule. The Sheridan sailed from San Francisco yesterday morning.

There will be on board the transport eight troops of cavalry, the regimental headquarters and band. All field equipment will be brought with the soldiers, but the horses will come in on the American-Hawaiian freighter Virginian. Two or three days' mail will also be brought, in all probability, on the vessel.

Major Foster and Captain Sturges of the Fifth Cavalry, are already on the ground, the officers having arrived here on the same ship which brought Captain Castner, the constructing quartermaster charged with the work of building the Leilehua post.

All of the tents needed to house both officers and men have been sent out to Leilehua and all will be up and floored by Tuesday night at the latest. Sanitary arrangements have been practically completed, and the water plant is in satisfactory working order. Though

Consider Wills

Consider the advisability of making out a will NOW. Think of the necessity of leaving an "iron-bound" will—one that not even the cleverest lawyer can smash.

Our business is to draw up wills in proper legal form. We do it free of charge, if made one of the executors.

Benefit Jan. 16th

A benefit concert for the Italian sufferers' relief fund will be given at the Opera House on Saturday evening, January 16. The program will include the best musical and dramatic art of the city. Tickets will be on sale Monday afternoon at the Bergstrom Music Company.

SUPERVISORS HOLD ANOTHER SHORT, QUIET MEETING

The Board of Supervisors held another peaceful and short meeting this afternoon at 1 o'clock, only routine business being done. All the Supervisors, except Cox, were present.

Logan reported for the special committee on office quarters, in favor of leasing the upper floor of the McIntyre building at the rate of $250 a month. A resolution to this effect was introduced by McClellan and carried on motion by Kane, seconded by Aylett.

Logan said that the committee had used due diligence to strike a better bargain elsewhere, but had been unable to do so, and the proposition adopted was considered by business men as a very good one.

City and County Attorney Cathcart submitted an opinion recommending the passage of the resolution granting the United States a right-of-way for a military road from Kalaikaua avenue to the Kala road. He added that he believed it would amount merely to the granting of a license, as he doubted that the City and County had the power to grant franchises. The resolution carried on motion by Quinn.

On motion by Logan, the meeting adjourned until 10 a. m. tomorrow.

The Nippon Maru, bringing mail from the Coast, will reach here at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon. A wireless was received from the ship this noon by H. Hackfeld & Co.

Mrs. L. L. McCandless' reading of poems by Judge Dole was one of the features at the "Local Authors' Evening" at the Kiloheana Art League last night. The whole program was charming. Among other literary efforts presented was a translation of abt of ancient Tahitian verse by W. D. Alexander.

THE FRENCH ship Thiers, which arrived here yesterday afternoon from Tasmania, is still lying out in the stream. The Thiers called here for orders, and it is not thought likely that she will dock.

GRAND JURY'S FINAL REPORT

Territorial Body Returns Two Indictments This Morning

Two true bills were brought in by the Territorial Grand Jury, which was in final session this morning. One of them is against T. Yamamoto, charged with bribery, and the other against Paik Woon Ki, charged with assault with a weapon. The Grand Jury drawn from the new panel will be sworn in Monday.

The final report of this body was given to Judge De Bolt this morning, in which it is stated that the total number of cases taken up was 80, the number of true bills returned 65, and the number in which no bills were found, 25.

The following were the cases taken up this morning:

Kalei and Mauna Kaleheana, larceny; no bill.
Ah Tuck alias Chu Tuck, perjury; no bill.
Yatsutaki and Aoki, embezzlement; no bill.
Keohokii, burglary; no bill.
T. Yamamoto, bribery; true bill.
Hakimoto Arakichi, violating fishing rights; no bill.
Paik Woon Ki, assault with a weapon; true bill.

HAWAII MAY SOON BE A DEPARTMENT

Depot Quartermaster Is Now Independent Of Coast

What was probably the first step toward establishing the Military Department of Hawaii, was taken several weeks ago by the War Department when the depot quartermaster here was taken out of the jurisdiction of the Department of California and made directly responsible to the Quartermaster-General's office at Washington.

Heretofore, the local military station being a part of the Department of California, the depot quartermaster has had to transact all business through headquarters at San Francisco. Considerable inconvenience has resulted at times, it is said, through the delay necessary in reaching Washington with important business, owing to the necessity for passing matters up to San Francisco first.

That the Department of Hawaii will be an actual fact within a very short time, is the opinion of local Army officers. The great garrison which will be located here, and the importance of the post not only as a fighting but as a supply base, will demand, it is believed, that the administration be located on the ground.

As the authority of a department commander is, of necessity, much greater than that of any post commander.

CONGRESS IS AFTER THE PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 8.—The Senate today instructed the Judiciary Committee to report on whether the President was authorized to permit the absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company by the United Steel Company. This absorption was one of the incidents of the 1907 panic. In consequence of the approval of the President, J. P. Morgan, acting for the Steel Trust, was able to wipe out its only remaining competitor. It is believed by many that the conditions that started the panic were brought on by the Steel Trust to force the absorption of the Tennessee corporation.

HOUSE SCORES PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 8.—The House today devoted its time to a debate of the secret service as brought to public notice by the President's message. The President was vigorously assailed by several speakers.

MESSINA SHAKING AGAIN

MESSINA, Sicily, Jan. 8.—An undulatory earthquake shock was experienced here during the night and panic prevailed throughout the city. The U. S. supply ship Culgeva arrived today.

WHERE SUGAR IS PRODUCED BY EUROPEAN FARMERS

Mr. Desplace Of Queensland Says White Farmers Are Success

GOVERNMENT AND CORPORATIONS LEND MONEY AND HELP

Head of One of Queensland Central Mills Finds Much of Interest in Hawaii—Returning Today

Among the passengers for Australia by the Makura leaving today, is Mr. Desplace, who came here some four weeks ago with letters of introduction from Dr. Maxwell, formerly of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Experiment Station.

Mr. Desplace is on a vacation and at the same time has been visiting the most prominent sugar mills with a view to benefit the Queensland mills he is connected with.

Mr. Desplace is the manager of one of the Queensland Government Central Mills and also inspector of the other mills under government control. Dr. Maxwell is the controller of that department whilst also director of the Sugar Experiment Stations there.

Mr. Desplace is very much impressed with what he has seen, and states that the white labor condition in the sugar fields of Queensland is settling down to business there and is giving satisfaction, but to arrive at it the industry has been specially legislated for—the only trouble is it is like most of such legislation, there is no certainty of how long it will be kept on.

The Queensland system for the maintenance of white labor in the sugar
